

Prayer request for Week June 1, 2008

Thank you to all who have prayed for the children who have been abused by the peace keepers and international aid workers who were sent to protect them.

A leading children's charity based in UK, has released a report to the UN describing abuses to children in southern Sudan, the Ivory Coast and Haiti.

The report points the finger at the peace keepers and international aid workers that were sent there to protect them. Because the children feel intimidated by their abusers they rarely come forward. This makes it very difficult to understand the scope of the abuse. As well as other crimes, the report alleges that food is traded for sex with children as young as six years old.

These children need a voice, and through our prayers we will give them one.
